

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

C. C. Powning, Editor & Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY.....APRIL 26, 1860.

The Gem puzzle is nowhere beside the West Point intricacy.

The House is getting along with business very rapidly, and there is now some prospect of an adjournment by the first of June.

The Blaine ticket had no opposition in Carson yesterday. D. A. Bender, H. S. Mason, Augustus Lewis and Trenmore Coffin were elected delegates to the State Convention.

Cold weather and heavy soil have prevented seeding in most parts of the northwest, and farmers are much behind with Spring work. This seems particularly the case in Minnesota. Reports are condiciting about Winter wheat. In Illinois it seems to be in excellent condition, while in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin it has been seriously damaged during the open Winter, and in some counties will be nearly failures.

The municipal election took place in Austin on Monday resulting as follows: Mayor, Albert Steinbuch; Aldermen of the First Ward, J. S. Hammond, M. Finnegan and T. L. Brennan; Aldermen of the Second Ward, J. S. Barnard, Charles Lund and J. E. Farrell. The contest being for City Marshal, who is elected by the Board, John Bicknell the present incumbent, gets four out of the six Aldermen, giving him a sure thing for re-election.

The English people expect from Gladstone's Government a policy of sober, practical reform, such as will present the greatest contrast, by its plainness, industry and justice to the policy of the administration which the country has just consigned to the limb of political failures. At Gladstone's age he would hardly have chosen to combine two such arduous offices as Prime Minister and Chancellor of the Exchequer without the hope of being able to render the country service in each capacity.

The House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures held another meeting Monday, and gave a hearing to Senator Hill, of Colorado, who urged the claims of Denver as a fit and suitable place for the establishment of a Mint, on account of the abundant production in that State of the precious metals, the cheapness of coal, labor and other ingredients in the coinage of the metals. Hill stated farther, that in the smelting and assay works in Denver upwards of forty tons of sulphuric acid—an important essential in the coinage of money—was wasted daily, which could be utilized if a Mint were located there.

Hon. John F. Swift has arrived in Washington from California. He called upon President Hayes Monday morning with Senator Booth, and in the course of a pleasant fifteen minutes' conversation, the President expressed himself warmly in sympathy with the people of the Pacific Coast in regard to the evils of Chinese immigration, and earnestly desirous of a modification of the Burlingame treaty to restrict it. Mr. Swift subsequently paid his respects to Secretary Evarts, and also made the acquaintance of his colleague, Mr. Tresscott. Minister Angell has not yet returned from Michigan, but is expected daily, and upon his arrival the necessary instructions for the work of the Commission will be promptly completed.

The Carson Mint will not be removed if Congressman Daggett can prevent it. He appeared before the House Committee the other day and strenuously opposed the proposition of dismantling the Mint and removing the machinery to some point in the Mississippi Valley. He admitted, however, that, owing to the excessive charges of the express companies for the transportation of silver coin, the products of the mines of Nevada were shipped in bullion to the San Francisco Mint and there coined and the coin shipped to Washington and New York cheaper than from Carson City, though Carson is three hundred miles nearer Washington and New York than is San Francisco. This was the only reason he could give for the failure of the Government to obtain a sufficient supply of bullion at the Carson Mint to keep it running twelve months of the year, instead of three months.

Mearney's New York Friends.

John Swinton, in a letter to the Irish World, proposes that a great meeting be held to express sympathy with Denis Kearney, "sent to prison through a most shocking perversion of justice, and under circumstances of piratical cruelty." The editor replies that arrangements are now making to hold such a meeting, three gentlemen of the Irish World joining with Swinton in defraying the expenses of hiring the Cooper institute for the purpose.

NEWS NOTES.

Bob Ingersoll wears diamond shirt studs.

Horseback riding is becoming fashionable in Boston.

Mr. Washburne is said to be the second choice of Iowa.

There are nearly a million volumes in the public library of Boston.

Postmaster-General Key says he is not a candidate for Vice President.

A leading New England journal says that section has room for 1,000,000 immigrants.

Senator Cameron has contracted for the erection of a handsome residence in Washington.

In proportion to its population the immigration is greater from Canada than that from Europe.

Joseph Cook, says a Western journal, has again opened his wide mouth and put his big foot into it.

Captain Howgate is building in Washington a wooden house for use in his proposed Polar expedition. The sides and windows are double.

As it is impossible, says the Boston Herald, for Massachusetts to be big physically, nothing is left her but to see that she is big morally and patriotically.

Methods of Nihilism.

A St. Petersburg correspondent of the Herald on the 19th telegraphs as follows:

The trial of the Nihilists will begin in about three weeks. Fifteen accused persons will appear before the military tribunal, over which General Leicht presides. Among them are Michaeloff, the coachman of Meseznoff's murderer, and Dr. Weimar, who owned the horse and furnished the pistol used by Soloiev in the attempted assassination of the Emperor last year. Several of these men will probably be sentenced to death. Stress is laid on the presence of the Nihilist Lavrov in Paris. It is asserted that this man, who writes for La Justice, the radical organ of M. Clemenceau, is in constant relations, if not with the political prisoners at least with their families, and that he makes common cause with the French Communists. The Russian government is said to be growing daily more offended at the hospitality extended in France to these militant Nihilists. Paris is generally regarded in St. Petersburg as the center of their operations. On the demand of the Russian government Switzerland has just adopted a measure to prevent the Nihilists from extending their operations in that direction by a new regulation providing that every person who takes a passport in any of the twenty-two cantons shall be required to sign it. Should he sign a false name he will be regarded as having committed a forgery, and will be sent before the courts for trial.

Recalled to Life.

A most remarkable case of resuscitation is reported to have taken place at Raab on the 14th inst. A Pestil district patch of the 16th gives the following particulars:

Raab is about sixty-seven miles from this city and was formerly a fortified city. It is built on the river of the same name and is a place of some commercial importance. The story that comes from there reads more like one of the grim contes drolatiques of Balzac than an occurrence of the present day. A young convict named Takacs, who had murdered two women, was hanged. He was about twenty-three years of age. After the body was cut down and examined by the physicians life was pronounced extinct. As a scientific experiment the body was subjected to an electro-galvanic current, and after a few hours signs of life were perceptible. The resuscitated convict completely recovered the use of his senses, and his first actions were of violence toward the prison officials by whom he was surrounded. He soon began to suffer from congestion of the brain and became delirious during the night. He made repeated attacks upon the keepers and complained of violent pains, asking from time to time for milk and water. Death released him finally from his suffering, yesterday morning. The entire medical faculty of this city is considerably exercised over the case.

The Great Eastern Steamship.

Now that it is known that the City of Rome steamship is to be within a few feet of the length of the Great Eastern, and to draw about as much water, the latter huge vessel is to be set at work again. For several years the Great Eastern has been lying idle at Milford Haven, in England, a constant expense to her proprietors, who, however, have been persuaded that it would prove less costly to let the ship lie at anchor than to send her to sea. This seemed sorry end for what was once accounted a masterpiece of marine architecture, and it is gratifying to learn that another effort—stimulated, perhaps, as we have hinted, by the building of other monster steamships—is in progress to make the Great Eastern commercially profitable.

Her paddles are to be removed and screws are to be substituted, and the vessel is undergoing preparations to be put in the American cattle trade. She is also to be redecorated so far as her cabins are concerned, but we imagine that her most lucrative trade westward will consist of the transportation of emigrants. The demand for this kind of accommodation actually gives token that before long it will outstrip the supply, and the Great Eastern may come in at the nick of time, and drive a fine business in consequence. The ship can easily carry 3,000 persons at a trip, and it would not be at all surprising if, in a few months, she were called upon to do so.

"EARLY DAYS."

New Placerville Came to be Known as Hangtown.

[Mountain Democrat]

The sobriquet of Hangtown, by which this city was at one time only known, and which is now not unfrequently applied to it, had its origin in the hanging by a mob, in October, 1850, of a desperado named Richard Cronin, but known to the community by the nom de plume of Irish Dick. The boy was but a boy, hardly more than twenty-six years of age, and came across the plains from St. Louis, in one of the very first trains in the capacity of a cook. He was of small stature and more noticeable because of his outer attire, a wide and peculiar mouth, and large, protruding teeth. He took to gambling as a profession, and showed by his skill and pluck, that he was not unsuited for a business which, especially at that time, was a most hazardous calling. Like his fellows, he never went unarmed, and like them would not hesitate to use his weapons when he thought it would aid his cause to do so. He soon made himself well known throughout the camps now included in El Dorado county, but honored "Hangtown" most generally with his presence. One night, while in the El Dorado saloon, where now stands the Cary House, he stabbed and almost instantly killed an emigrant just arrived, mistaking him, it is said, for some one whom he designed murdering for some fancied wrong. The murdered man had a brother in town, who resolved that "Irish Dick" should die. In this determination the town concurred. Dick was taken from the place where the officers of the law had stationed him, into the main street, and tried by a jury of citizens, in the presence of excited thousands who had collected together from the surrounding country. The verdict was "guilty," and so soon as it was pronounced the condemned was pushed from the platform whereon he and the Sheriff and the extemporized Court had sat, and hurried along with the crowd towards the plaza where the preparations were made for his execution. At this point the mob was told that a sick man was in a house near by, and that the uproar seriously troubled him. The crowd at once returned down Main street, and up to what is now Coloma street, to a large oak, near where is now the Episcopal Church. Meanwhile, Sheriff "Bill" Rogers, and Alex. Hunter and John Clark, Constables of the town, fought desperately for the possession of the prisoner, but against the determined multitude they were powerless. Throughout the terrible ordeal Dick, with a physical courage truly wonderful, conducted himself with the utmost coolness. When placed under the tree, with the rope around his neck, he begged the privilege of climbing upon the tree and leaping from the fatal branch. But this was denied him, and he was jerked up by strong and willing hands, and was soon a dangling corpse.

COAST ITEMS.

The Merced county grain crop promises to be very large.

A telegraph line between Corvallis and Portland was completed on the 24th.

The execution of Gantue and Brown, the Mendocino outlaws, is stayed by appeal.

J. M. Ryan, of Montana, has purchased 25,000 sheep in California to be driven to that territory.

The grain fields of Butte county from which the water has receded do not appear to be much damaged.

William Carter, State Printer, died suddenly at Corvallis, Oregon, on the 25th, of neuralgia of the heart.

An agent for a Scotch company is buying many of the valuable chrome mines in San Luis Obispo county.

A lad named John Mooney died at Portland, Oregon, on the 24th, from the effects of a shot accidentally self-inflicted.

The report that the dam at Benicia has given way is false. The dam and reservoir are all right, and water will be supplied within thirty days.

A German in the employ of showman was caught in the ropes of a balloon, at Dixon, Solano county, on the 25th, and taken up thirty feet before falling. He is not seriously injured.

J. E. White, of Weston, Oregon, while insane, set fire to his house recently, and was terribly burned. He afterwards went to a neighbor's house about daylight, and awakened him by his cries. He was burned almost to a crisp, and could be tracked through the snow by the blood. He died shortly afterward.

About one hundred feet of the Sutter county levee, in district No. 1, in front of the Humphrey ranch, six miles above the town of Nicolaus, gave way on the 22d, letting in the waters of the Feather river and doing great damage to the growing crops on the Humphrey, Wilson, Lyon and adjoining ranches. The levee was constructed last year.

RAILROAD MATTERS—Mr. Bidwell informs us that the Truckee and Plumas railroad prospects are on a solid foundation, and that there is every reason to think that the road will be built. He has been investigating the matter to some extent, and his judgment is to be relied on. Our people should move in the matter, and give the project all the support in their power.—Plumas National.

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF GOODS.—Isaac Barnett has received his Spring stock. The selection is superb; all latest fashions, novelties, fine fancy articles, dress goods, trimmings, can be seen and those who have taken a glance at the goods admit that no stock of goods has ever been brought to Reno so magnificent and abundant as this; even the ladies from the East, at present sojourning here admire the assortment and are astonished to find goods in prices very near comparing those from their own home. Give this establishment a call ladies, you will not regret it.

For a good time go to Goeggel's.

West Bound Passengers.

The following through passengers are on to-night's train:

George S. Rice, W. S. Simmons and wife, Boston; James Watson, J. B. Haines, Jr., A. J. Scott, Frank Whitmore, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Searle and daughter, San Francisco; C. Schmitz and family, Cincinnati; Mrs. L. H. Allen, Miss Coppé, John W. Woolly, New York; C. E. Smith, W. J. Sutherland, Chicago; F. L. Anderson, Amoy, China; Colonel Gray, California; Frederick Von Bodensterdt, Germany; George W. Prentiss, wife and daughter, Kansas; George Strom, Shanghai; E. Torey and wife, San Jose; Samro Take Ki, Japan.

New Buildings.

There are but few new houses in course of construction at the present time, and the outlook is not bright for unusual briskness in the building line. Of the new buildings going up there are on the north side of the railroad track and Charlie Jones' is the one we call to mind on the south side of the river.

Distinguished Visitor.

Among the passengers for San Francisco to-night is Frederick Von Bodensterdt, who is now Germany's most celebrated poet, his fame being largely due to his Persian poems. He is making a tour of America, and will visit the Germans of San Francisco for two or three weeks.

New Stage Line.

J. W. French & Co. are the proprietors of a new line of stages from Eureka Patch to Spring Valley and the Van Dewater mine. Stages leave every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Fare $2.50.

Scenes.

May is very scarce now, and the price is still advancing. From $16 it has gone to $18, while many are even asking $20.

Charlie Richardson is in town, en route to Bodie from Sacramento, where he has been log-rolling Bodie matters through the California Legislature.

A treat is in store for those who attend the Cushman quartette performance this evening at Reform Club Hall.

There will be an engine drill this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time the new Bristol nozzle will be given a trial.

Saturday will be the 1st of May. The weather is almost fine enough for the traditional picnic.

There is no exciting news from Pyramid. Work is going on as usual in the leading mines.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Young Kallock still declines to say anything of the circumstances leading to the attack on De Young. He will have his preliminary examination tomorrow.

C. W. Hymer was executed at Winnemucca yesterday for the murder of T. K. West last May. In 24 minutes after he dropped the doctors pronounced him dead. He was born in Sacramento, September, 1857.

The town of Macon about 123 miles south of Corinth, on the Mobile & Ohio railroad, Mississippi, was partly destroyed by a cyclone on Sunday night. Eighteen persons were killed and forty wounded. The loss of property is estimated at nearly $200,000.

Daggett yesterday presented several monster memorials against the Public Land Commission's mining bill. One of them, from Eureka, bears 1,300 signatures, and another, from Tuscarora, has 600.

Representative Daggett has obtained the promise of the Comage Committee to delay action on the proposition for the removal of the Carson Mint until a reply shall have been received by Daggett to his letter to Secretary Sherman, which letter was designed to elicit the precise reason why the government cannot purchase the requisite amount of bullion at Carson.

The Sherman delegates to the Ohio State Convention are in a large majority, and have above decided to instruct their delegates to vote for Sherman as long as there is any reasonable chance of his nomination at Chicago. Owing to the number of Blaine delegates it is not deemed wise to adopt the unit rule. The Blaine delegates promise to make a lively fight.

The Sacramento river is higher at Rio Vista than at any previous time this year. All the Cache slough country is hopelessly flooded. A Rio Vista dispatch says: For three consecutive years this section has been inundated, resulting in heavy loss to many, one man alone losing $15,000. The Island levees, so far as heard from, are still holding out, though they are said to be softening in several places on Brannan and Grand Islands, so that a heavy wind just now would be disastrous.

General Sherman says: West Point Academy is the creature of Congress. In my opinion there is no place where prejudices of color are less regarded than in the army. When Flipper graduated both the Secretary of War and myself shook hands with him and congratulated him. Flipper is doing well, I am glad to say, and is respected by every officer in the army. The newspapers are responsible for all the clamor about West Point. The heads of the Academy are Northern men. There is less hazing at West Point than at any private institution in the country.

In Harrisburg, Pa., on Monday, Judge Pierson sentenced Kemble, Petroff, Salter, Crawford and Rumberger each to pay $1,000 fine and one year at hard labor in the Penitentiary. The prisoners have been convicted of offering bribes to members of the Legislature to induce them to vote $1,000,000 of the public money to pay for $2,000,000 damages to the railroad companies in the Pittsburg riots of 1877. Kemble is an ex-State Treasurer, and was second in power as a politician to Don Cameron.

For you, respectfully,

Dr. D. W. Gray, 100 Franklin Street, and Druggist, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, March 27, 1880.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of rheumatism.

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES.

Advertisements of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lung and Skin Tabac are in many cases of great service. Cures of Cataract, the Rheumatism and dis-eased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles, and until the system is brought into proper order the indolence of the Railroads will be very great before freedom from them can be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public. In that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism, and is believed to be the most effective preparation for the thorough treatment of Cataract ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that in five years over 200,000 cases have been cured for Cataract, the best known and reliable, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggists. Advertising may succeed in placing it in the market, but it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhalation Tablets with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Send all wholesale and retail dealers and agents through out the United States and Canada.

SPINNEY will guarantee for certain sum of money for removal of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDOLDED AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by slight smearing or burning sensation, and a weakening of the sexual organs. The patient cannot account for it. On examining the urinary deposits very sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance.

There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

OUR HOURS—13 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 11 A.M. Consultation free. Thor-ough examination and treatment $5.
